Opening page

The website will directly open to the first walk. The path of all the walks and the red dots will be made using containers. (like the drawing from still life)

The color sceme is sharp and graphic- using only primary colors.

(color inspiration: http://readwax.com/net-art/#double-pendulum)

The top left corner will have a link to the next walk.

End

On hovering over the red dot, the image related to the dot will pop up with a red border.

Clicking on the image will further lead you to a full sized image and certain metadata about the image.

This is what the full size image will look like. The image will still have a red border to make it look more unified.

On the left hand side will be some meta data abou the image.

The top left will have a link to the next image.
